If you are passionate about VR games then you have definitely participated in a simulation game called Beat Saber. Players will use sand blades and swings to turn vertical neon cubes coming towards you. In addition, it also uses the hottest background music today. Thanks to VR technology with music and this game made a big buzz. Beat Blade: Dash Dance is the mobile version of this game. Although they don't use the VR engine, but there are changes to bring unique charm. Do you love a ninja? Want to play an endless running game? Can't wait to enjoy the music from idols? Everyone gathers in this game. Excellent graphics, unique design from the frame to animation This is the first point that makes people feel interested in this game. Beat Blade: Dash Dash Dance an extremely unique moving platform that you will immediately want to feel. For example, at Beat Saber, you'll stand still and feel that everything is fast approaching you. In the game - Dash Dance, players will constantly move forward and overcome obstacles. The difference in emotion will bring a more unique experience, not moderate. The game will design its setting exactly the same as the popular Cyberpunk theme. The colors of the game will be a combination of bright colors with neon effects. Thanks to this, the player will feel like he is immersed in a future world. In addition, this is actually a music game, so you have to use a headset to maximize the experience. You will temporarily forget the real world to immerse yourself in the game, with a hasty pace, attractive sounds and unique images. Visual effects help with the visual effects game process is also a highlight of this game compared to other games of the same kind. When you move, you will see your character run as a real Ninja. Players will easily feel every step moves to match the music. Thanks to this you can easily catch beats according to your emotions. This means that sometimes you don't have to look at the screen to know exactly which direction to move. In addition, when you start to chop into a rhythm, there will be light effects coming from ninjas' hands. It is extremely suitable and matches the rhythm of the song. Thanks to this, the player will take decisive action, not delayed during the move. Later, when the pace of the music increases, you can easily keep up with the progress of the game. Maximized, focusing on flexible motion + music As mentioned, Beat Blade: Dash Dance is doing very well in the cartoon design of characters. If you've ever fallen in love with Temple Run, this game will definitely satisfy you. To control ninja in the game, you just need to hold and drag on the screen. If you leave, the character will continue to run straight, right in the middle of the screen. Thanks to this mechanism, you can let your hands relax a little in case there are no obstacles ahead. But when an obstacle appears, you need to quickly touch the screen and regain control. The challenge in the game is quite easy. There are two things to pay attention to beats and obstacles appear alternately throughout the tracks. You have to avoid obstacles and vertical all beats. These two things need to be manipulated at the same time. You will lose if you encounter an obstacle and lose a beat. Because of this difficulty, the game is not endless, but it will have a stop. Usually, it depends on the difficulty of singing. The more the song and the faster the harder it is to complete. Therefore, select the song and level right with your level to get the best entertainment experience. The character's weapons along with regular weekly updates Characters in the game will use a weapon to dissect the beats that appear on the screen. In fact this is just a decorative element element has a big effect. Players who use the typical type of Ninja sword for a long time will feel bored. With a slight change in weapons, they can feel the progress of the game better. In addition, every week, Beat Blade: Dash Dance will have improvements, innovations, regular updates. Currently, the game has not yet released new models for the character. You still have to play ninjas, but in the future it might be different. The game is gradually improving to bring the best experience for the players. Please look forward to positive changes offline.
